Cross-border M&A is rarely straightforward — and when representations and warranties are disputed, the answers can differ substantially depending on which law governs the transaction. Join leading practitioners from across Europe as we explore how different jurisdictions approach post-M&A arbitrations, from the theory of liability to the remedies available when deals unravel.

KEY TOPICS

- Characterization of liability for breach of a representation or warranty
- Contractual or statutory basis and scope of liability
- Impact of intentional or fraudulent misrepresentation
- Remedies available across jurisdictions through real-world case studies
